

ALEXANDRIA, VA.
FRIDAY EVENING, DEC. 2, 1892.

THE RICHMOND Dispatch, in its account of the service of a judicial summons upon President-elect Cleveland to appear in court at Richmond next Monday, says "the common opinion expressed here is that Mr. Cleveland will not come to Richmond." Why not? Of all the men in the country, the one who next March will take a solemn oath to execute faithfully its laws, should be the one, above all others, to show his fellow-citizens his respect for law and order, by obeying implicitly and with alacrity the mandates of the courts, and thus set them an example of their duty as good citizens, for the Constitution provides that full faith and credit shall be given in each State to the judicial proceedings of other States.

THE commercial travelers, the people formerly called druggists, doing business in North Carolina, yesterday filed with the Raleigh Railway commission a complaint against baggage smashing. Whether their complaint will abate the evil in North Carolina remains to be seen, but that such an evil exists not only in the State referred to, but in all the other States, and not only on railroads, but in hotels and in hack and wagon service, and that it is a crying one, goes without saying to all travelers; and not only each State, but each city, should stamp it out by the imposition of fines and other penalties.

A NEGRO preacher in the Wesley Methodist church in South Carolina has resigned and joined the African Methodist church, for the assigned reason that "the negro has no show" in the former. And yet the former is not the M. E. Church South, but is supported by the Northern Methodist church, and most of its pastors are northern white men. The races will not mix either in school or church, or in any other relation, than as employer and employee, and all attempts to make them do so must fail, for what nature has put asunder, men cannot join together.

MR. CARNEGIE has rented a Laird's castle in the north of Scotland, and now Mr. Wm. Waldorf Astor has rented the former home of the Duke of Westminster in England. The two millionaires referred to evidently have a high opinion of "blood," and labor under the grotesque delusion that it can be obtained from stone walls. They have a right to live where they please, but they not only subject themselves, but their country, to great ridicule.

ACCORDING to the U.S. Commissioner of Labor, the difference in the cost of the labor required to produce a ton of pig iron in England and in this country is $2.79. The tariff on a ton of English pig iron is $6.72. The American manufacturer is thus enabled by the tariff to make $3.93 profit on the labor in every ton he sells to his countrymen. It is to stop such robbery that an extra session of Congress is demanded by the robbed.

CONGRESSMAN COOPER of Indiana, who, and Mr. Enloe of Tennessee, are Commissioner Rumba's black bears in the U.S. House of Representatives, is as pronounced as any of his colleagues in favor of the early repeal of the McKinley bill, and says there is every reason why there should be an extra session of Congress, and not one why there should not be. He, too, is a wise man in his day and generation.

SNIPES MUST be as plentiful at Hog Island as English sparrows are here, as Mr. Cleveland is reported to have killed fifty-three there at one shot. But a snipe is a bird of delicate flavor, and no body ever before heard of shooting them like blackbirds for pot-pie.

MR. JAY GOULD, the King of Wall street, is dead, but the rest of the country goes on as usual, and the government still survives. He was a better man than many of those who didn't know him suppose.

GOVERNOR JONES INAUGURATED.—There was not a ripple during the inauguration of Governor Jones at Montgomery, Ala., yesterday. The talk about the Kolb people making a row melted away like frost in the sunlight. The Kolb men were at the capital in force, but they kept quiet. The governor's inaugural address dealt principally with financial matters, but he took occasion to pour hot shot into the Kolb people, calling them enemies of the State. There is every indication that they have accepted the inevitable and have decided to make no effort to declare Kolb Governor, as has been mooted for some time.

VIRGINIA AND THE WORLD'S FAIR.—The Board of World's Fair Managers met in Richmond last night and estimated the expense of the Virginia exhibit at $18,000 to be for the erection of a building to duplicate Washington's residence at Mount Vernon. The board has $25,000 on hand and will proceed at once to raise the balance of the money needed. A number of valuable relics from the house of John Randolph of Roanoke were offered and accepted for exhibit in the Mount Vernon building.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Orders were issued by the Navy Department to-day detaching Commodore J. S. Skerrett from command of the Washington navy yard and ordering him to assume command of the Pacific station on January 10th next. Commodore George Brown, now in command of the Pacific station, is said to be desirous of again taking charge of the Norfolk navy yard, and as the term of Commodore Weaver, the present commander, will expire January 10th, it is probable that his wish may be gratified. Speculation is already rife among naval officers as to who will be the next commander of the Washington navy yard. Captain Howell, it is reported, is slated for the billet.

Congressman Wike of Illinois was at the Capitol to-day. He is one of the congressmen who understands what the people mean by voting as they did last Monday. He is in favor of an extra session of Congress, and also of the passage of an income tax by the present House, and says he feels confident that the House will send such a bill to the Senate before the close of the session.

Mr. Edgar Allen, recently of Richmond, but now of this city, and an assistant U. S. attorney general, will start for Texas to-morrow on governmental business and be absent for two months. In the meantime the suit of Windsor vs. Mahone, in which he is counsel for the latter, will remain in abeyance.

That the wide-awake business men of this city have their eyes on Alexandria, is made apparent by the fact that some of them have already bought property there. One of them, Mr. C. F. Norment, has recently bought three houses there.

Judging from the way several prominent and influential democratic Senators, with whom the GAZETTE'S correspondent has recently talked on the subject, expressed their views, it is hardly probable that the tax on State banks will be moved, and some of them wonder how such a plank ever got into the democratic platform. They don't believe that the government can constitutionally use the taxing power for any other than revenue purposes, but the national bank system has worked so well, and is so safe to depositors, that they think it better to leave well enough alone.

The officials of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway here confirm the statement that a new steamship line has been organized to operate between Newport News and Liverpool. They say six first-class vessels will be put on the line at a cost of over $2,000,000. The company will be known as the "Chesapeake and Ohio Steamship Company, Limited," and the capital will be furnished jointly by American and English investors with a majority of the stock in the hands of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company. Among the directors are President M. E. Ingalls and Vice President Deatur Axelt, of the Chesapeake and Ohio.

Secretary Charles Foster said this morning he did not think the death of Jay Gould would make any appreciable difference in the financial markets, inasmuch as the effect had been already practically discounted, and as his son George could be depended on to pursue a safe and conservative policy in the management of his father's estate. There was, in his opinion, no possible danger of a financial panic. Another Treasury official said this morning that the hours in Wall street might attempt to profit by Mr. Gould's death, but were not likely to accomplish any more than they did in a similar attempt to bear the market on the occasion of Mr. Vanderbilt's death.

It is said here that the Washingtonians who bought the Pioneer Mills and old foundry in Alexandria have already put $150,000 in that property, and that in a short time they will commence the work of vulcanizing wood there on a large scale.

The death of Mr. Gould did not affect the stock market here in the slightest degree. A southern democratic member of the House when informed of this morning said the time had been when the death of the owner of so much money would have unsettled bonds and stocks considerably, but that there were too many other rich men now for the death of any one of them to produce the faintest ripple.

J. M. Langston, the negro ex-Congressman from the Petersburg, Virginia, district, who lives here, says the cause of the republican defeat not only in the district referred to, but in the whole State, is comprised in one word—Mahone.

Two Virginia republicans, Messrs. Oast of Norfolk, and Wood of Washington county, were here yesterday. The former was launching at the fact that Corbett a negro, got more votes than Gowden for Congress in his district. The latter said nearly all the negroes in his district voted the democratic ticket, and that the republicans there were without form, and were consequently void.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Cholera has again broken out in Cherbourg and other French towns. Dr. Briggs pleaded not guilty to the charge of heresy in his trial before the New York Presbytery yesterday.

Mr. William Waldorf Astor has taken Cleveland, the Duke of Westminster's seat in England, for five months, from December to April.

The Russian government has assigned the sum of $3,000,000 to be expended in supplies for the peasants in the famine-stricken provinces.

Democrats in Montana believe they have discovered a plot of the republicans to steal the legislature and elect a republican successor to Senator Sanders.

A bill was introduced in the Alabama legislature yesterday providing for an annuity of $500 a year for Mrs. Davis, widow of Jefferson Davis, during her life. The bill met with much favor. It will undoubtedly be passed.

Archbishop Satolli, papal legate to the Chicago Columbian Exhibition, has cabled the Pope for permission to make public the educational propositions submitted by him to the Catholic archbishops of the United States.

The first payment in gold coin made by the Austrian government to members of the Reichsrath caused considerable dissatisfaction, many shopkeepers being afraid to accept the gold coins, having never seen any other than paper money.

The New York May convention democrats declare that Senator Hill was disloyal to Cleveland and that one of his friends gave the republicans the names of fifteen thousand of his followers who might be "induced" to vote for Harrison.

Reports received in London and New York state that the silver scheme formulated by Alfred de Rothschild, one of the British delegates to the international monetary conference, has been voted down by the committee to which it was referred.

The handsome residence of Mr. Chas. D. Lowndes, on Lawyers' Hill, Howard county, Md., about one mile from Relay Station, Baltimore and Ohio R. R., was destroyed by fire Wednesday night, with nearly all its contents, entailing a loss of from $5,000 to $10,000.

Two of the Columbian souvenir coins were subjected to an official assay at the Treasury Department in Washington yesterday and found to weigh each 35.50 grains, of which 34.72 grains are silver and 35.58 copper. It was stated at the Treasury Department that the regular issue of these coins to the public will not begin for at least ten days.

The annual report of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Rathbone shows that the number of establishments of new postoffices during the past year was 4,105, a greater number than during any previous year, with the exception of 1890, when it was 4,427. The net increase of postoffices over the year ending June 30, 1891, was 2,790, and the year 1891 was 2,740, and the year closed with 67,119 as the whole number of postoffices in the United States.

The trial of William Rhodebeck for the murder of David and Christine Sellers, near Mt. Glen, Ohio, some three years ago, resulted in a verdict of acquittal. Rhodebeck was charged with killing the old people and burning their bodies in the house in order that he might marry the daughter. His wife was also charged with complicity in the crime. William Benedict, a detective, who was interested in the prosecution, is held on a charge of perjury.

One hundred and fifty women who had been inmates of disorderly houses in Pittsburgh which were closed by the police under an enforcement of the law in that city, appealed to the Mayor for assistance, many of them not having sufficient money to pay their way to other cities. The Mayor referred them to the ministers, who propose to establish an employment agency for those among them who wish to lead moral lives.

William D. Cross, colored, sentenced to the day for the murder of his wife 3 years ago, was yesterday brought from jail into the Criminal Court, in Washington, before Judge Cox, who sentenced him to be hanged on January 6th next. He is very familiar with the court room, having spent several weeks there on the occasion of the two trials for murder which he had undergone; for he has been twice convicted of murder and the date of his death by hanging has been fixed eight times.

WORK ON THE RAPPAHANNOCK.—The work that is at present being done on the river just below town, instead of, as heretofore, being performed by contract, is being prosecuted by the government, which expects by this means to get a better job and at considerable less expense. If the experiment proves successful this class of work will in the future not be farmed out. It has been found that where the contract plan was pursued that the government often failed to get good work; in fact, as done in the past 25 years, it looks like a waste of money. There has been expended on the Rappahannock river in this time about $300,000, and the facilities for navigation are no better to-day than when the work began. Some one is to blame for this, and some plan should be devised that will tend to the permanent improvement of our waterways.

There is now being built below Hazel Run a dyke 800 feet long, behind which will be deposited in the spring the sand, &c., which will be dredged from the river.—Fredericksburg Lance.

COURT OF APPEALS AT RICHMOND. Commonwealth against Dunlop. From Circuit Court of Petersburg. Affirmed, Judge Lewis delivering opinion.

Commonwealth against Ford, trustee. From Circuit Court of City of Richmond. Affirmed, Judge Lewis delivering opinion.

Bowman against Rinehart and others. From Circuit Court of Culpeper. Affirmed, Judge Fountall delivering opinion.

Shelton against Commonwealth. From Circuit Court of Prince William county. Reversed, Judge Lewis delivering opinion. Judge Fountall concurring in the result.

Andrews against Fitzpatrick. From Circuit Court of Bedford county. Reversed, Judge Lacy delivering opinion.

Starkey against Long. Argued by W. L. Yancy, esq., for appellant and Windfield Liggett, esq., for appellee.

Fidelity and Casualty Insurance Company against Baugh. Dismissed.

DIED. At the residence of Mrs. Sarah Mills, No. 513 South Lee street, at about 12 p. m., on Wednesday, November 30th, 1892, JAMES A. MOORE, in the 36th year of his age. His funeral will take place from St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend. (Washington, Wilmington, and Galena, Ill., papers please copy.)

Fighting in the Streets of Madrid.

Yesterday in Madrid was a day of uninterrupted tumult and apprehension. Thousands of men did not go to work at the usual hour, but waited in groups at street corners near the centre of the city. They were joined by 9 o'clock by crowds of loafers, anarchists and rowdies. Thousands gathered at the Rueda del Sol and began shouting against the ministry and the municipal authorities. The police tried to disperse them, but were repulsed. Red and black flags were waved as the police retreated and cheers for anarchy and the revolution were given. Reinforcements were called, but before they arrived most of the crowd had drifted into side streets. At 2 o'clock the crowd gathered again, 11,000 or 12,000 strong. Black flags were more numerous and many of the men were armed with clubs.

The crowd surged up to the steps of the home office, shouting: "Down with the government!" "Down with the city thieves!" "Crush the upper ten thousand!" "Give us our rights!" etc. The building was closed and a call was sent out for military and police protection. Before troops arrived the cry "To the Palace!" was raised, and the mob started down the Calle del Arenal shouting, singing and waving flags. Stones, clubs and pieces of metal from the windows were thrown through the windows on both sides of the street, respectable citizens were thrown down and trampled or compelled to join the mob, and several shops in the side streets were forced open and plundered. When half way to the plaza before the palace the rear end of the mob was intercepted and dispersed by police, who broke in from a side street with drawn sabres. The struggle between police and people lasted about ten minutes, as the men fought stubbornly with whatever weapons they could find. Two policemen were knocked senseless and stones and two market women who joined the mob were cut down with sabres. Meantime the foremost part of the mob reached the open space before the home office, and there they gathered in the open spaces until 11 o'clock. Mounted police moved in squads through the city and dispersed them as fast as they assembled. The uneasiness felt by the wealthier classes is little less than a panic. The police and military are prepared for more trouble to-day. The bitterness against the government is intense among the laboring and artisan classes. The change in the ministry of the interior apparently will accomplish nothing toward averting a cabinet crisis, as popular feeling against the whole present government is so thoroughly aroused that it can be allayed only by the retirement of the cabinet in a body.

DOUBLE LYNCHING. Richard Magee and one Carmichael, both white, were hanged to telegraph poles about half a mile from the town of Benton, in Bosier parish, La., and were swaying to and fro in the breeze yesterday when Coroner H. Neeson and a jury arrived on the scene to hold an inquest. When the men were cut down they were still alive. Living on Phelps lake, Bosier parish, near the Arkansas line, was Mrs. Ellie Lingle, widow of Joseph H. Lingle, an old river steamboat pilot. With her resided an adopted daughter. The girl some time ago was married to Richard Magee, who worked on Mrs. Lingle's place. Magee then assumed the management of the plantation, but things did not run smoothly. He began selling some of the live stock, and quarrels with Mrs. Lingle ensued. Magee armed himself with a shotgun Saturday and waited outside of Mrs. Lingle's house while Carmichael informed Mrs. Lingle that Magee was stealing her horses. She at once went outside to see about it, when Magee emptied both barrels of his gun into the woman's throat, killing her instantly. It is said that Carmichael had agreed with Magee to decoy her out of the house so that the latter could shoot her. Magee went to Benton Sunday and surrendered himself to Sheriff Thompson, claiming that he had shot the woman in self-defense. He alleged that she had tried to shoot him while he was loading a wagon with hogs. No warrant was issued for Magee's arrest, although he was placed in jail. A party of men went to the home of Sheriff Thompson early yesterday morning, where there were also stopping Deputies Cables and Hall, and presented Carmichael, with his hands tied behind him, saying that he was implicated in the shooting, and that he wanted him put in jail. Deputy Harrison was designated to take the prisoner to jail. When he arrived he found a crowd of men in waiting, who seized and disarmed him of his pistol and took the keys of the jail away from him. Magee was then brought out by the men and marched off with Carmichael to the spot where they were found hanging yesterday morning. Magee was about thirty-five years old and Carmichael about thirty. Both were bad characters. It is supposed that Magee's object in killing Mrs. Lingle was to get possession of her property through his wife.

MR. CLEVELAND. No one in Richmond expects President-elect Cleveland to appear in the Chancery Court Monday in response to the summons served upon him in the suit of Mr. Willis B. Smith. That paper was nothing more than a formal notice to Mr. Cleveland to appear on that day either in person or by counsel and defend his interests. Mr. Cleveland was a member of the debt advisory board, and was made a party defendant to Mr. Smith's complaint out of abundant caution. The plaintiff said he did not expect Mr. Cleveland to appear in court. He may, if he considered it proper to introduce the matter at all, and his deposition to the matter at $750,000 commission which the debt committee received.

The natives of Hog Island are very proud of an incident that occurred Wednesday evening. Among the old inhabitants is Sam Kelly, a retired storekeeper, who was introduced to Mr. Cleveland, and related his many experiences in various parts of the country. He said that most of the picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the most glorious picture, however, of the contentment and happiness of Hog Island. The distinguished visitor was so much impressed with the old man's enthusiasm that he remarked: "Well, suppose you take my place at Washington, and I'll take yours at the